Dalton Gata
It ain't necessarily so
May 25th- June 22nd, 2019

Dalton Gata (1977, Santiago de Cuba, Cuba) obtuvo una Licenciatura en Diseño de Modas de la Escuela de Diseño de Altos del Chavón en Santo Domingo, República Dominicana en 2005. Trabajó varios años como diseñador, lanzando dos colecciones antes de volcarse por completo al arte. Su obra mezcla relaciones personales con cultura popular. Amantes, hallazgos de internet, música, moda, drag, criaturas fantásticas, diseño de interiores, amigxs y memoria, son algunos de los elementos que habitan su íntimo y fascinante imaginario. Su trabajo se ha exhibido ampliamente en la República Dominicana y el caribe, incluyendo la 27 Bienal Nacional de Artes Visuales de Santo Domingo, (2013); Galería Ramos Mederos (2014); Galería Lucy García (2015, 2016, 2017), y el Centro Cultural Español de Santo Domingo (2016), así como Embajada Gallery, San Juan (2018).

Gata vive y trabaja en Coamo, Puerto Rico.

Dalton Gata (b. 1977 in Santiago de Cuba, Cuba), graduated in 2005 from the Escuela de Diseño Altos del Chavón in Santo Domingo, DR with a BFA in Fashion Design. He worked as a designer producing two collections of his own before turning full time into art. His visual universe blends popular culture with personal relationships. Lovers, pets, internet findings, music, fashion, drag, interior design, fantastical creatures, friends and memory, are a few of the elements that inhabit his intimate and fascinating universe. He has exhibited widely in the Dominican Republic and the caribbean including the 27th National Biennial of Visual Arts, Santo Domingo (2013), Ramos Mederos Gallery, Santo Domingo (2014), Lucy Garcia Gallery, Santo Domingo (2015, 2016, 2017), and the Spanish Cultural Center of Santo Domingo (2016), as well as Embajada Gallery, San Juan (2018).
